

MORSE Month 2020

Week 2: Responsibly

Activity: Hazard Hunt

Facilitator: none required

Who can take part: anyone and everyone!

Where can this take place: anywhere!

Time: no time limit

Additional resources: hazard definitions (MM_2R_hazard_definitions.pdf)

Join our largest Hazard Hunt during MORSE Month! Everyone can get involved by looking for hazards in your respective working environment and reporting them.

Objectives

- Improve awareness of hazards – what do I see and what does it mean to me?
- Improve reporting by spotting hazards and reducing the potential of near misses and incidents/accidents

What do I need to do?

- You can play singly or in a group. Where groups of employees are working together under the leadership of a supervisor or similar, that person can take the lead on helping to encourage, collect and report hazards from employees.
- Simply record the hazards you see and enter them into the MORSE system. Refer to the hazard definitions (PDF) to help you with this. All entries during MORSE Month will be monitored and the business unit with the most entries will receive recognition.
- Hazards can include reporting on third party activity, actions, inactions or behaviours.
